The Neeman Commission Didn't Solve Everything Masorti Rabbi to Speak Saturday, May 16

Rabbi Michael Graetz, spiritual leader of Congregation Magen Avraham in Omer, Israel, and one of the most passionate and articulate spokesmen for the Masorti Movement, will speak at the Shabbat morning service on May 16.

Rabbi Graetz was born in Lincoln, Nebraska. He attended Columbia University and the Jewish Theological Seminary, from which he was ordained in 1967.

In 1967, he went on Aliyah to Israel and worked as assistant to the editor-in-chief of the Encyclopedia Judaica, for which he wrote articles on modern Jewish thought.

In 1973, Rabbi Graetz served in the Yom Kippur war in the IDF chaplaincy, as part of the Hevra Kadisha. Upon his release from army service, he became rabbi of Magen Avraham Congregation in Omer, a suburb of Beer Sheva, and a teacher of Bible and Jewish Civilization at the Kaye State Teacher's College in Beer Sheva. In 1988, he was appointed to the faculty of the Israeli Rabbinical School of Masorti Judaism.

During the period of 1976 through 1979, Rabbi Graetz was active in beginning the Masorti Movement. This activity culminated in his election as the first executive director of the movement. In that position, he established the movement's office in Jerusalem and negotiated the first agreement between the Jewish Theological Seminary and the movement, which established Masorti as a fact.

During this period, Rabbi Graetz continued as the rabbi of Magen Avraham, which has grown to 140 member families.

Rabbi Graetz, who is known for his writing and has many publications to his credit, is a member of the editorial staff of the Masorti journal.

Rabbi Graetz believes that Masorti

Wallace Chavkin To Be Honored Tuesday, June 9

Park Avenue Synagogue is pleased to announce that it will honor Wallace Chavkin at a gala dinner to be held at Park Avenue Synagogue, for the benefit of the Jewish Theological Seminary, on Tuesday evening, June 9, 1998.

Wally is a member of the Board of Trustees and has served on the synagogue's finance committee. On Simhat Torah 1997, the Park Avenue Synagogue honored him as Hatan Torah for his commitment to Torah and to Jewish ideals. He also serves as a member of the Board of Overseers of the Rabbinical School of the Jewish Theological Seminary. In addition, he shows his concern for the Jewish community and for education by serving on the Boards of Trustees of the Jewish Braille Institute and the Horace Mann School.

Wally is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Biddle Sawyer Corporation and its affiliate, the Enzyme Development Corporation.

A lifelong New Yorker, Wally is a 1946 graduate of the Columbia University College of Pharmacy. He served in the U.S. Army during World War II and was honorably discharged and awarded the Bronze Star for his distinguished service in the medical corps.

Wally is deeply devoted to his family. He and his wife Esta, to whom he has been married for 52 years, are the parents of Carol and Jeffrey, who is married to Kathy. Their grandchildren: Peter, Jessica and Arielle are either currently enrolled in or proud graduates of the Park Avenue Synagogue religious school.

In his spare time, Wally's first love is to spend time with his grandchildren. He also

116th Annual Congregational Meeting Wednesday, May 20

The 116th annual meeting of the Park Avenue Synagogue congregation will take place this year on Wednesday, May 20th at 7 P.M. As is the custom, a buffet supper, to which the entire congregation is invited, will be served at 6 P.M., before the meeting.

The Chairman of the Board, Alan Levine, will deliver the Annual Report and Rabbi David H. Lincoln will install into office the newly elected Officers of the congregation, the Board of Trustees, and the Advisory Council, as well as the officers of the various "arms" of the synagogue: Sisterhood, Men's Club, Parents' Association, Women's Evening Group and the Nursery School Parents' Association. Cantor David Lefkowitz will conduct the memorial service for those members of the congregation who passed away since last year's meeting.

A vital and vibrant Conservative congregation like the Park Avenue Synagogue needs the interest and involvement of its members in both its daily life and major events. Therefore, plan to attend this annual meeting to express your interest and concern for your congregation. And if you intend to come for supper at 6 P.M., please call the synagogue office (369-2600) to let them know you will be coming.

Rabbinic Ruminations

At the last session of my adult education course I brought in and read passages from a selection of books and other material relevant to our topic. I passed some of these around so that the participants in my class might better familiarize themselves with the texts. I took particular note of the intense interest with which these were examined and their titles jotted down. It reflected a thirst for acquiring some basic Jewish resources that I would like to think exists among many of our members. We are, after all, "the People of the Book."

You may recall that some years ago the Lubavitcher Hasidim embarked on a campaign to highlight the necessity of owning certain fundamental Jewish texts. Here are my thoughts on the essential elements of a Jewish library,

Rabbinic Ruminations

Many of which can be acquired from The United Synagogue Book Service, 155 Fifth Avenue, (212) 533-7800, ext. 2004.

First and foremost, no Jewish home should be without a copy of our Bible, both in Hebrew and English. Unlike our Christian neighbors, we don't "read the Bible." We study it. Therefore, a commentary—at least on the Torah—is an indispensable tool for the understanding of our holiest text. There are any number of commentaries available in English, but there is only one caveat: often, an Orthodox commentary will present Aggadic (legendary) material as fact or one interpretation (among many) as the authoritative one.

You should own a Jewish calendar, and, of course, a prayerbook.

The Jewish Theological Seminary has published a marvelous compendium on all aspects of Jewish observance (life cycle, Shabbat and the holidays, prayer) by Rabbi Isaac Klein entitled A Guide to Jewish Religious Practice. It is a volume that I urge you to acquire.

Some years ago, Harry Kemelman, the author of those mysteries featuring sleuth par excellence Rabbi David Small, ran out of days of the week (Sunday the Rabbi Stayed Home, Monday the Rabbi...etc.). That is when he wrote Conversations with Rabbi Small, which is a very readable presentation of basic Jewish beliefs. For a scholarly and more in-depth understanding of Jewish thought I refer you to Louis Jacobs' A Jewish Theology. A slender pamphlet titled Emet Ve-Emunah (Truth and Faith) outlines the principles of Conservative Judaism.

A one-volume Jewish history should also be a part of your collection. The most comprehensive one that I have come across is The History of the Jews by Solomon Grayzel. A cogent and compelling history and understanding of the Conservative movement can be found in Elliot Dorff's Conservative Judaism: Our Ancestors to our Descendants which was originally published as a sourcebook for United Synagogue Youth.

The Jewish Catalog Volume I is a user-friendly, quick-reference guide to observance, and Jewish Literacy by Joseph Telushkin contains a wealth of information on "everything"!

No list is perfect or all-encompassing, and I have deliberately, and with much difficulty, eliminated many outstanding books. If you would like further assistance, any of the clergy will gladly guide you to texts in your area of Jewish interest.

— Rabbi Kenneth A. Stern

Publication and Reviews of Rabbi Nadich's Newest Book

The sixth book of Dr. Judah Nadich, entitled Rabbi Akiba and His Contemporaries, was released for publication this past month by Jason Aronson, Inc. It is a successor book to his two volumes of The Legends of the Rabbis.

Both Elie Wiesel and Arthur Hertzberg are two reviewers of this latest accomplishment. Elie Wiesel has written about his work: "Rabbi Nadich enchants the reader with the profound wisdom of the ancient founders of rabbinic literature and the depth of their teaching."

Arthur Hertzberg, upon receiving the new book, wrote to Rabbi Nadich: "It is your great merit that you are bringing Torah closer to those who do not read the sources in the original and that you are acting as a kind as well as a learned teacher."

Wallace Chavkin

enjoys photography, painting in watercolor and drawing.

Rabbi Ismar Schorsch, Chancellor of the Jewish Theological Seminary and head of the Conservative movement will be one of this special evening's featured speakers.

We hope you will make every effort to show your warm regard and high esteem for Wally by attending this dinner and supporting the Jewish Theological Seminary. He is most worthy of this distinctive honor.

Barry A. Bryer will serve as Dinner Chairman, with Jeffrey Schwarz as Gifts Chairman.

A cocktail hour will be held at 6 P.M., followed by the dinner at 7 P.M.

For additional information, or to make a reservation, please contact Randy Newman at the Seminary (678-8924).

Call Your Clergy

The rabbis and cantors of Park Avenue Synagogue are eager to serve you. However, unless you call them, they cannot always know something has happened in your life which could be either enhanced or helped by a visit from them.

Nothing distresses them more than to hear they failed to be of assistance when there was a need. They are earnestly dedicated to the conviction that each congregant is truly worthy of their consideration. But, they can offer their services only when they are made aware of your needs.

Be both kind to yourself and fair to your clergy! Inform them if you desire their services. You cannot assume that they have heard from someone else.

Masorti Rabbi

Judaism is the key to the success of Israel as a truly "Jewish" society. Masorti ideals of pluralism, tolerance, scientific study of Jewish texts and stress on ethics, coupled with strong Jewish commitment and practice, are the basis for the Israeli society which he wants to build.

Cantor David Lefkowitz, who is one of the principal Jewish contributors to a new dictionary in preparation entitled Music for Worship: A Concise Dictionary. Consisting of some 1,500 entries, this reference work on liturgical music of Christians and Jews will provide brief descriptions, histories and explanations of ritual and musical terms and personnel. Ecumenical and cross-cultural, it is intended for students of music and liturgy, musicians of religion and clergy.

Lag B'Omer

Lag B'Omer occurs on the 33rd day after the second day of Passover, during the seven week Sefira ("counting") period between Passover and Shavuot. This year, it begins on Wednesday evening, May 13th and continues on Thursday, May 14th.

Special attention is paid to Lag B'Omer because, according to the Talmud (Yevamot 62b), it was on this day that a plague that had struck down many thousands of Rabbi Akiba's students abated. Because of this event, Lag B'Omer also has been called Scholar's Day.

All About Shavuot

Shavuot, the Festival of Weeks or Pentecost, is celebrated exactly seven weeks after Passover. It is observed for one day in Israel and for two days for those of us who live in the diaspora.

Originally, Shavuot was solely an agricultural festival, a time of ceremony and rejoicing when the first fruits were brought to Jerusalem. But, in time, it became associated historically with the giving of the Torah on Mount Sinai.

During the services on this Festival, we read the Ten Commandments and the general theme is the Jewish love of learning. Also, the Book of Ruth is read at this time because it shows the great devotion of Ruth to her adopted faith and people.

Among the customs associated with this Festival are decorating the synagogue with flowers, all night study (Tikun Leyl Shavuot), and the eating of dairy foods which is symbolic of the concept of Israel as the land of milk and honey.

Tikun Leyl Shavuot Saturday Evening, May 30 at 8:30 P.M.

It is a Jewish tradition to spend the first night of Shavuot studying Torah, because it is on Shavuot that we celebrate the giving of the Torah to Moses and the Jewish people. This tradition is called Tikun Leyl Shavuot.

At 8:30 P.M. on Saturday evening, May 30, Cantors David Lefkowitz and Nancy Abramson, together with the Synagogue Choir, will conduct a special Festival service. This service will be followed by a study session with the clergy. The topic will be announced at a later date.

Cheesecake and coffee, in honor of the tradition of eating dairy foods on Shavuot, will be served after the study session.

The Rabbi Judah Nadich High School Graduation Sunday, May 31

The graduation ceremony for students in the Rabbi Judah Nadich High School will take place during the 9:15 A.M. service on the first day of Shavuot, Sunday, May 31st.

The high school students will share with the congregation their thoughts and feelings about their experiences in the high school. Then, a buffet lunch in honor of the graduates, compliments of the Park Avenue Synagogue, will follow the service.

Graduating this year are:

Lauren Antler	David Newman
Howard Braham	Daniel Ostrow
Alexandra Certilman	Cassel Harrow-
Isaac Dovere	Shapiro
Sam Levy	Robert Silvers

PASECC Applications

Member families who would like to apply to the Park Avenue Synagogue Early Childhood Center for the 1999-2000 school year are asked to call the school and request an application form between May 1 and June 30, 1998. (After that date the school will be closed until mid-August.)

Starting this coming year, the ages of the youngest children entering the school will change from 2.5 to 2.6 years in September. All children who were born before April 1, 1997 are eligible for school in September, 1999. The Park Avenue Synagogue Early Childhood Center adheres strictly to its cut-off dates. Families who have been longtime members of the synagogue are given special consideration. However, this does not always guarantee acceptance because of the need to balance groups in a variety of ways.

There is an application fee of $40 per child. The application process includes a visit and tour of the school by one or both parents and a separate visit with the child.

For the September, 1998 school year, there were approximately 50 openings. It will be very helpful to have some idea prior to September as to how many eligible member families are interested in a place for the 1999-2000 school term. This will enable us to determine how many applications from new members or non-members we will be able to accept. Thank you for your cooperation.
